Students who can not take the full course, will be permitted to study such parts as they may elect, with the advice and consent of the Faculty.

A course of lectures will be delivered on the studies of the course during the scholastic year 1878 and 1879.

Theological students will be expected to take such common English studies, in connection with the Theological course, as may be prescribed, or pass a satisfactory examination on them, in order to graduate.

Students preparing to enter the regular work of the ministry, will not be required to pay tuition, and other expenses will be made as reasonable as practicable.

NORMAL.

The Normal department is designed to give such instruction in methods of teaching, in class drills, and such practice in hearing recitations, as will prepare students for the practical duties of teachers.

Pupils entering this department must be fourteen years of age, and pass the required examination.

Students in this department who teach a class regularly, will not be required to pay tuition fees.

The urgent demand for competent teachers is such, that special efforts will be continued, to make this department most efficient in fitting young men and women for the work of teaching.

ACADEMIC.

The Academic department affords students the means of acquiring an English education, with sufficient of the languages to enter the study of the professions advantageously.

MEDICAL

Prepares the student for the practice of medicine.

LAW.

This department has been opened, and will be continued if demanded.

ADMISSION.

Students must be fourteen years of age, to be admitted into the regular College classes.

Students entering any department, must pass a satisfactory examination on such studies as have already been pursued by the class they propose to enter. Applicants for admission must bring satisfactory evidence of good moral character; agree to be governed by the rules of the college; and make the required payments before being admitted to the privileges of the school.

Students coming from other colleges, must bring satisfactory evidence of honorable dismission.

EXAMINATION.

Written examinations will take place monthly, on the studies pursued during the month.

At the close of each Term, the classes will be examined in the studies pursued during the Term.

Students who absent themselves from examinations, will be required to pass the examination, or lose their standing in their classes.

GRADUATION.

Students completing any course of study, will receive the degrees usually conferred for such attainments, or certificates of graduation.

Candidates for graduation in any course, will be required to pass an examination on the Common English branches.

MUSIC.

Classes in vocal music and free gymnastics are taught each session.

Instrumental music on the organ or piano, with use of instrument, will be $3.00 per month.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The school year is divided into two Terms; the first consisting of sixteen weeks, and closing about Christmas; the second beginning soon after New Year, and continuing twenty weeks.

The vacations are during the Christmas Holidays, and the months of June, July and August. This long vacation enables students to teach and otherwise labor to meet their current expenses.

GOVERNMENT.

A daily account is kept of each student, in such a way as to afford a full exhibit of his habits, in regard to regularity and punctuality in his duties, as well as the merit of his recitations, and a copy sent, when desired, to the parents or guardians.

The use of tobacco or intoxicating liquors is positively forbidden.

Students occupying rooms in the college buildings must keep them in order; and will not be allowed to receive company, or visit each others' rooms, during school or study hours. They will be required to observe the hours for rising and retiring, and, also, hours for study and recreation. They will not be permitted to leave the grounds without permission. They will be responsible for order in their rooms, and will be required to pay for any damage done to furniture, or buildings, beyond the necessary wear in careful usage. Regular and punctual attendance on all College duties is imperatively demanded for the highest success of the students.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION

Religious exercises are held, each day, at the opening and closing of School. Students are required to attend these services; and also to attend Sunday-school and public woaship each Sabbath, at such places as are designated by parents or guardians. Those occupying rooms in the College building will attend services at the College, unless excused. While the Institution is under the patronage of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and is supported almost entirely by the Freedman's Aid Society of this Church, it is the aim to teach those great principles of religion, which fit men to be truly useful, and make them wise unto salvation.

The friends of the students are requested not to visit them on Sunday, and students will not be allowed to leave the College grounds for any other purpose than those in accordance with the command: "Remember the Sabbath-day to keep it holy."

EXPENSES.

Tuition in all departments of the School, will be, for the present, $1 per month (four weeks). Room rent $1 50 per month.

Boarding in the Institution, including tuition and room rent, is $8 per month. Lights and fuel furnished at cost.

All bills for tuition, board, room rent, etc., must be paid, at least monthly, in advance.

No students will be permitted to enter School for less than one month, and no deductions will be made from any regular dues for absence, except in cases of protracted illness, and in no case for less than two weeks.

Rooms will be furnished with heavy furniture, including bedding. Students will be required to furnish such other articles of furniture as may be necessary for cleanliness and comfort.

Students under fourteen years of age will not be permitted to room in the College buildings without special arrangements.

It is the desire of all connected with the school to make the expenses of the student as light as possible. Arrangements are made for those who desire to do so, to board themselves, by furnishing their own bed-clothes and such other articles as they need.

Students bringing money with them should deposit it with the President, or some member of the Faculty, for safety. Parents and guardians are advised not to furnish money to the students to spend without the advice of some judicious friend, or of some member of the Faculty.

LECTURES,

Lectures have been delivered during the school year, by Rev. Dr. J. M. Walden, on Books and Reading; by Rev. Dr. R. S. Rust, on the Intellect and its Culture; by Prof. W. Patterson, on Church History; by Dr. G. W. Hubbard, on Chemistry, Physiology and Hygiene; by Prof. J. H. Whitney, on Contracts, Torts, and the Legal Responsibilities of Marriage; by Prof. L. B. Tefft, on the Constitutions of England and the United States; by Prof. Chase, on Africa; Rev. C. H. O. Thomas, on Temperance; Mrs. J. W. Early, on Temperance and Hygiene of women; by the President, on Pastoral work, School Government and Theory and Practice of teaching. A course of lectures on physiology, hygiene, minor surgery, care of the sick, the administration of medicine and dietetics, was delivered to the School of Nurses, by members of the Faculty. It is contemplated to continue this instruction in the future, so as to fit those who avail themselves of this instruction to care wisely for themselves, to know how to relieve others, and take intelligent care of the sick.

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The library contains over thirteen hundred volumes; a beginning has been made of a geological cabinet, and some philosophical apparatus has been procured. Our friends can aid us greatly by making additions to each of these necessary educational instrumentalities..

SOCIETIES.

There are four Societies connected with the College. The Young Men's Christian Association affords opportunity for weekly religious exercises, and public meetings for the promotion of personal piety and Christian activity. The members of this Association have aided in establishing and maintaining Sunday-schools, and have thrice canvassed a considerable portion of South Nashville, in the interests of the Nashville Colored Bible Society, and are fostering the spirit of Missions at home, and also preparing to carry the light of the Gospel to the still benighted home of their ancestors in Africa.

The Excelsior Literary, and Junior Societies are composed of those students who may be elected on account of literary and other merit. The Library Congress meets statedly for literary exercises and discipline in parliamentary law. These organizations afford excellent opportunities to become acquainted with the usages of deliberative bodies, discipline in debate, and general elocutionary exercises.

BUILDINGS.

The College buildings consist of four substantial brick edifices, pleasantly situated on the east side of Maple street, in South Nashville. The new building is four stories above the basement and is admirably adapted to school purposes. The two lower stories are divided into school and recitation rooms, library, reading room and museum. The upper stories contain dormitories for the young men. The three other buildings include a boarding hall, chapel, dormitories for the young women, and homes for the teachers.

DONATIONS

During the year donations to aid needy students have been received from the Freedman's Aid Society of the M. E. Church, by Dr. R. S. Rust; from the Education Society of the M. E. Church by Dr. E. O. Haven; W. C. DuPauw of New Albany Ind.; Samuel Meharry of Shawnee Mound, Ind.; Tennessee Conference of the M. E. Church; Hugh Meharry, Paxton, Ill.; Trinity M. E. Sundav-school, Cambridge, Mass.; by J. F. Pennell, Jacob Miller, Canton, O.; Rev. J. L. Ramsdell, Clyde, Mich.; Mrs. Bishop Peck, Syracuse, N. Y.; Mr. Seman Taber, Elmwood, Kan.

A donation of 100 copies of Jasper and Gold from T. C. O'Kane, Delaware, O., and 100 copies of Song Sermons by Phillip Phillips of New York; a barrel of bedding from the Children's Aid Society of Groton, Conn., and a box of bedding from Madisonville, Ohio, by Mrs. Dr. J. M. Walden.

PATRONIZING CONFERENCES.

The Holston, Lexington, Central Tennessee and Tennessee Conferences have appointed visiting and examining committees. The great need of a more through preparation of the young men who are to enter the ministry is acknowledged by all. The brethren in these Conferences will confer a great favor on the young men about to enter the ministry, and lasting benefit upon the Church, by calling their attention to this needed preparation, preaching on the subject of education and urge the youth of their congregation to avail themselves of the benefits which this school affords.

HISTORY AND OBJECTS.

The Central Tennessee College was organized in 1866, under the wise counsels of Bishop D. W. Clark. Almost from its organization it has been supported by the Freedman's Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Its object has been to train teachers and preachers for the Freedmen.

About twenty-seven hundred have been enrolled as students during the twelve years of its existence. Nearly one-third of these have engaged in teaching and tens of thousands have received the benefit of their labors in the school room.

Most of our students, as soon as qualified, even to a limited degree, engage in teaching. They generally organize and conduct Sunday-schools, in connection with their day schools. Some of them are also preaching to the really destitute.

A deep religious interest has pervaded the students in the boarding hall this year, and nearly all the irreligious have been converted.

A lively interest in the enlightenment of Africa has manifested itself during the past year, and several students have consecrated themselves to the missionary work in that country, and are here seeking the needed preparation.

WHO WILL HELP?

Friends in the North have aided a few of the Theological students. A few others have been helped to meet their expenses by the Societies of the Church, and yet there are many others anxious to secure an education, but their lack of means prevents. These young men and women, aided with a moderate sum for a few years, would be eminently useful in educating the mass of their race, so long kept in ignorance of that which is essential to mental, social and religious development.

A small amount—from twenty-five to fifty dollars—will often enable a student to attend school the whole year. If young men and women can be kept in school regularly, they will the sooner be prepared for the important work to be done among the Freedmen. If they are compelled to do all for themselves, wages are so low, and in many cases so uncertain, that many years will pass before the work can be accomplished. It is important for all the interests of the entire country, that thoroughly educated freedmen become the leaders and teachers of their people. Rome is at work, and so are infidelity and superstition. A scholarship of one thousand dollars will pay expenses for a student in the College, perpetually. Africa needs missionaries, and many are ready to go as soon as they are prepared. Nearly five millions of people are asking for competent teachers and a better educated ministry. Shall they have them?

CENTENNIAL ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION.

During the past year this association was organized by colored members of the Tennessee Conference, who grateful for what had been done for the Freedmen by friends in the North through various channels, but mainly through the Freedmen's Aid Society, resolved to make an effort to raise among their own people, an amount sufficient when properly invested, to support, at least, one teacher. A beginning was made. Subscriptions and money received, which with persevering effort will insure the ultimate success of the project.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

For the benefit of those teachers and others who cannot attend the regular session of the school, a Teachers' Institute, lasting four weeks, was held at the close of the present school year. The number attending was small, yet encouraging results were reached. It is proposed to continue the experiment with such modifications as may be found necessary. During these Institutes the whole course of study, usual in the public schools, will be reviewed, and such others as may be found profitable to those who attend. At the close of the Institute the members will pass an examination and receive a certificate of proficiency.

The Hebrew Bible, and Greek New Testament, with Critical Exegetical Exercises, will be introduced into this course of study, whenever it may be deemed advisable.

The methods of instruction will be by text books and lectures. The books will be mainly those prescribed by the General Conference.

Students who can not take the full course, will be permitted to study such parts as they may elect, with the advice and consent of the Faculty.

Theological students will be expected to take such common English studies, in connection with the Theological course as may be prescribed, or pass a satisfactory examination on them in order to graduate.

Students preparing to enter the regular work of the ministry, will not be required to pay tuition, and other expenses will be made as reasonable as practicable.

Lectures were delivered during the year on Eschatology by Dr. Rust, and by Bishop Wiley on Church Work, and by the President on Discipline and Church Polity.

A course of lectures will be delivered on the studies of the course during the scholastic year 1879 and 1880.

Candidates for the regular ministry, who need aid while pursuing their studies, may receive such aid as their circumstances seem to demand. No one should come to the school expecting aid without some arrangement with the authorities of the College.

PATRONIZING CONFERENCES.

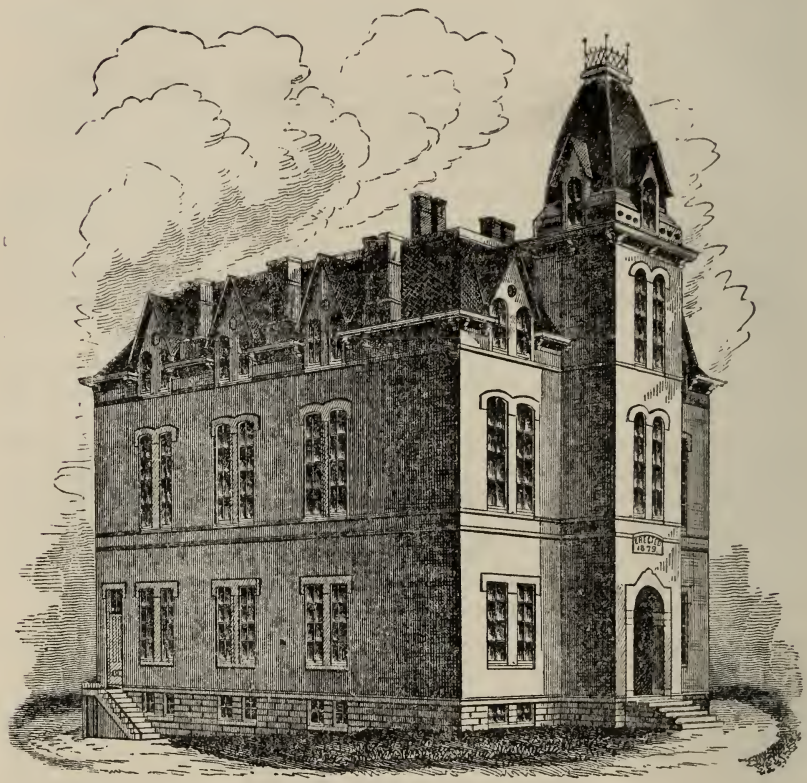

The Holston, Lexington, Central Tennessee and Tennessee Conferences have appointed visiting and examining committees. The great need of a more thorough preparation of the young men who are to enter the ministry is acknowledged by all. The brethren in these Conferences will confer a great favor on the young men about to enter the ministry, and lasting benefit upon the Church, by calling their attention to the necessity of education by preaching on the subject, and urge the youth of their congregations to avail themselves of the benefits which this school affords.

CENTENNIAL ENDOWMENT ASSOCIATION.

This Association was organized by members of the Tennessee Conference, who, grateful for what had been done for the Freedmen by friends in the North through various channels, but mainly through the Freedmen's Aid Society, resolved to make an effort to raise among their own people, an amount sufficient, when properly invested, to support at least one teacher. A beginning was made. Persevering effort will insure the ultimate success of the project.

MEHARRY

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

The Fourth Regular Session will commence Monday, October 6th, 1879, and will terminate in the last week in February, 1880.

This is the only institution in the valley of the Mississippi, and, with a single exception, the only one in the United States that is designed especially for the education of colored physicians.

It is the design of the Trustees and Faculty of this institution to secure for students that kind of information that will be most useful to them in active professional life. The instruction given will aim to be both thorough and practical.

From the success which the graduates of this school have already achieved, we are encouraged to believe that the teaching has been well adapted to fit them for the responsible position of medical practitioners.

During last summer, while the late Rev. Dr. Alexander Meharry and Rev. Samuel Meharry were on a visit to Nashville, they selected a beautiful elevation, near the present College buildings, on which to erect a suitable building for this Department, and, although Rev. Dr. Meharry has since been called from labor to rest, his widow, with the spirit of a true Christian, proposes to carry out, and even exceed, the expressed plans of liberality of her now sainted husband. And through the liberality of other members of this noble Christian family, a commodious, substantial and beautiful building is in process of erection. It is hoped that the building will be so far completed as to be used during the approaching session. This building will accommodate about one hundred students.

COURSE OF STUDY.

Three years of study will ordinarily be required to complete the course.

The preliminary studies may be pursued either under the direction of the Faculty, or of some regular physician at home.

During the first year's attendance here, students will be required to recite daily in Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry and Materia Medica, and have practical work in dissecting. They will have also the privilege of being present at the clinics, and hearing the lectures delivered before the senior class.

At the close of the session, they are required to pass a satisfactory written examination in the above mentioned branches.

The studies for the second year consist of Surgery, Gynæcology, Obstetrics, Surgical Anatomy, and Theory and Practice of Medicine, and daily recitations and attendance on the lectures will be required. Written monthly examinations are required during the whole course.

ADMISSION.

Applicants must be at least eighteen years of age, of good moral character, and pass a satisfactory examination in the common English branches.

Some knowledge of Latin and of the Natural Sciences will prove to be of great advantage, and students are earnestly advised, if possible, to take an academic or collegiate course before commencing the study of medicine.

There is no reason why the colored physician should not be as thoroughly educated as any other. There are special reasons why he should be most thoroughly equipped for his work. The ignorance, the irregular habits of life, and the great mortality among the colored people in many parts of the South, renders it absolutely necessary that those, whose work is especially among this class, should be thoroughly prepared to grapple with the difficult problems which present themselves in this field of practice.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION.

1. To graduate, the candidate must have attained the age of twenty-one years.
2. He must have studied medicine for at least three years under some regular physician in good standing, including the time spent in this or some other medical school.
3. He must have attended some regular medical school at least two sessions of not less than twenty weeks each, the last of which must have been in this institution.
4. He must pass a satisfactory written examination in all of the branches laid down in this course, and present an acceptable original thesis on some medical subject.
5. He must have paid in full all College dues, including the graduation fee.

FREE INSTRUCTION FOR MISSIONARIES.

Realizing the importance of medical knowledge to those who are preparing for missionary work in Africa, or other foreign lands, so that they can minister to the bodily as well as the spiritual wants of the people among whom they may be called to labor, the Trustees offer free instruction to the ministers of any Christian church, who are preparing specially for the foreign missionary work.

MUSEUM AND APPARATUS.

Through the liberality of Rev. Samuel Meharry and his brother, Hugh Meharry, of Shawnee Mound, Indiana, the College has been supplied, in part, with Anatomical, Physiological and Obstetrical Models, Charts and Chemical Apparatus. The cabinet of Materia Medica contains specimens of all of the principal drugs and chemicals employed in the practice of medicine.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

COURSES OF STUDY.

COLLEGIATE.

This is the usual four years' course, and entitles the graduate to the regular College degree.

PREPARATORY.

This department prepares students for College classes.

SCIENTIFIC.

This includes all the studies of the regular College course, excepting the languages, and furnishes a thorough English course for those who do not wish to study Latin or Greek.

NORMAL.

This department is designed to give such instruction in methods of teaching, in class drills, and such practice in hearing recitations as will prepare students for the practical duties of teachers.

Pupils entering this department must be fourteen years of age, and pass the required examination.

Students in this department who teach a class regularly, will not be required to pay tuition fees.

The urgent demands for competent teachers is such, that special efforts will be continued to make this department most efficient in fitting young men and women for the work of teaching.

ACADEMIC.

The Academic Department affords the means of acquiring a thorough English education, with sufficient knowledge of the languages to pursue the study of the professions advantageously.

ADMISSION.

Applicants must be at least fourteen years of age to be admitted into the regular College classes, and must pass a satisfactory examination on such studies as have already been pursued by the class they propose to enter. They must bring satisfactory evidence of good moral character; agree to be governed by the rules of the college, and make the required payments before being admitted to the privileges of the school.

Students coming from other colleges must bring satisfactory evidence of honorable dismission.

EXAMINATION.

Written examinations will take place on the studies pursued during each month, and at the close of each Term the classes will be examined in the studies of the Term.

Students who absent themselves from examinations will be required to pass the examination in order to retain their standing in their classes.

GRADUATION.

Students completing any course of study, will receive the degrees usually conferred for such attainments, or certificates of graduation.

Candidates for graduation in any course will be required to pass an examination on the common English branches.

MUSIC.

Classes in vocal music and free gymnastics are taught each session.

Instrumental music on the organ or piano, with use of instrument, will be $3.00 per month.

THE BIBLE.

Daily recitations in the English Bible are required, whenever practicable, in all the courses of study, and no student will be permitted to graduate in any department unless he can pass a satisfactory examination on the outlines of Bible history and doctrine.

GOVERNMENT.

The order and arrangement of the family is observed as far as practicable.

A daily account is kept of each student, in such a way as to afford a full exhibit of his habits in regard to regularity and punctuality in his duties, as well as the merit of his recitations, and a copy sent, when desired, to the parents or guardians.

The use of tobacco or intoxicating liquors is positively forbidden.

Students occupying rooms in the college buildings must keep them in order, and are not permitted to receive company, or visit each other's rooms during school or study hours. They will be required to observe the hours for rising and retiring, and also hours for study and recreation. They will not be permitted to leave the grounds without permission. They will be responsible for order in their rooms, and will be required to pay for any damage done to furniture, or buildings, beyond the necessary wear in careful usage. Regular and punctual attendance on all College duties is imperatively demanded for the highest success of the students.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

Religious exercises are held each day at the opening and closing of school. Students are required to attend these services; and also to attend Sunday school and public worship each Sabbath, at such places as are designated by parents or guardians. Those occupying rooms in the College building will attend services at the College, unless excused. While the institution is under the patronage of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and is supported almost entirely by the Freedman's Aid Society of this Church, it is the aim to teach those great principles of religion which fit men to be truly useful, and make them wise unto salvation.

The friends of the students are requested not to visit them on Sunday, and students will not be allowed to leave the College grounds for any other purpose than those in accordance with the command: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

EXPENSES.

Tuition is $1 per month (four weeks.) Room rent $1.50 per month.

Boarding in the institution, including tuition and room rent, is $8 per month. Lights and fuel furnished at cost.

All bills for tuition. board, room rent, etc., must be paid, at least monthly, in advance.

No students will be ermitted to enter school for less than one month, and no deductions will be made from any regular dues for absence, except in cases of protracted illness, and in no case for less than two weeks.

Rooms will be furnished with heavy furniture, including bedding. Students will be required to furnish such other articles of furniture as may be necessary for cleanliness and comfort.

Students under fourteen years of age will not be permitted to room in the College buildings without special arrangements.

It is the desire of all connected with the school to make the expenses of the students as light as possible. Arrangements are made for those who desire to do so, to board themselves, by furnishing their own bed-clothes and such other articles as they need.

Students bringing money with them should deposit it with the President, or some member of the Faculty, for safety. Parents and guardians are advised not to furnish money to the students to spend without the advice of some judicious friend, or some member of the Faculty.

LECTURES.

Lectures have been delivered during the school year by Prof. Patterson on the Origin and History of the English Language; by Dr. G. W. Hubbard on Colorado, Chemistry, Physiology and Hygiene; by Prof. J. H. Whitney on Government and History; President E. M. Cravath on Holland; Mrs. J. W. Early on Temperance; by Rev J. W. Freeman, D. D., on Sunday-school Work and True Character; Rev. H. S. Bennett on Rome; the President on the Theory and Practice of Teaching. Lectures on subjects connected with the course of study will be continued in the future by members of the Faculty andothers.

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The Library contains over fifteen hundred volumes; a beginning has been made of a geological cabinet, and some philosophical apparatus has been procured. Our friends can aid us greatly by making additions to each of these necessary educational instrumentalities.

SOCIETIES.

There are four Societies connected with the College. The Young Men's Christian Association affords opportunity for weekly religious exercises, and public meetings for the promotion of personal piety and Christian activity. The members of this Association have aided in establishing and maintaining Sunday-schools, and have thrice canvassed a considerable portion of Nashville in the interests of the Nashville Colored Bible Society, and are fostering the spirit of Missions at home, and also preparing to carry the light of the Gospel to the still benighted homes of their ancestors in Africa.

The Excelsior Literary, and Junior Societies are composed of those students who may be elected on account of literary and other merit. The Library Congress meets regularly for literary exercises and discipline in parliamentary law. These organizations afford excellent opportunities to become acquainted with the usages of deliberative bodies, discipline in debate, and general elocutionary exercises.

BUILDINGS.

The college buildings consist of four substantial brick edifices, situated on the east side of Maple Street in South Nashville.

A new and elegant building, intended for the Meharry Medical Department, is in process of erection and will fully accommodote this department. These buildings are pleasantly and healthfully situated, and afford ample facilities for school purposes, and a comfortable home for students occupying rooms in them.

DONATIONS.

During the year donations to aid theological students have been received from the Freedman's Aid Society of the M. E. Church, by Dr. R. S. Rust; W. C. DuPauw, of New Albany, Ind.; Tennessee Conference of the M. E. Church; Trinity M. E. Sunday-school, Cambridge, Mass.; by J. F. Pennell, Mrs. Bishop Peck, Syracuse, N. Y.; a Friend, through Rev. D. Rutledge, D. D.; Miss L. Battle, Girard, Penn.; Mrs. J. C. Whetstone. For other purposes, Rev. Samuel Meharry, Shawnee Mound, Ind.; Mrs. A. Meharry, Eaton, Ohio; Mr. Hugh Meharry, Paxton, Ill.; Miss Maggie Morrow, a donation of books.

HISTORY AND OBJECTS.

The Central Tennessee College was organized in 1866. Almost from its organization it has been supported by the Freedman's Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Its objects have been to train teachers and preachers for the Freedmen.

About twenty-eight hundred have been enrolled as students during the thirteen years of its existence. Nearly one-third of these have engaged in teaching, and tens of thousands have received the benefit of their labors in the school room.

Most of our Students, as soon as qualified, even to a limited degree, engage in teaching. They generally organize and conduct Sunday-schools, in connection with their day schools. Some of them are also preaching to the really destitute.

A deep religious interest has pervaded the students in the boarding hall this year, and nearly all the irreligious have been converted.

A lively interest in the enlightenment of Africa has manifested itself during the past year, and several students have consecrated themselved to the missionary work in that country, and are here seeking the needed preparation.

AID NEEDED.

Friends in the North have aided a few of the theological students. A few others have been helped to meet their expenses by Societies of the Church, and yet there are many others anxious to secure an education, but their lack of means prevents. These young men and women, aided with a moderate sum for a few years, would be eminently useful in educating the mass of their race, so long kept in ignorance of what is essential to mental, social and religious development.

A small amount—from twenty-five to fifty dollars—will often enable a student to attend school the whole year. If young men and women can be kept in school regularly, they will the sooner be prepared for the important work to be done among the Freedmen. If they are compelled to do for themselves, wages are so low, and in many cases so uncertain, that many years will pass before the work can be accomplished. It is important for all the interests of the entire country, that thoroughly educated Freedmen become the leaders and teachers of the people. Rome is at work, and so are infidelity and superstition. A scholarship of one thousand dollars will pay expenses for a student in the College perpetually. Africa needs missionaries, and many are ready to volunteer to go as soon as they are prepared. Nearly five millions of people are asking for competent teachers and a better educated ministry. Shall they have them?

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Fifth Regular Session will commence Monday, October 4th, 1880, and will end February 25th, 1881.

This is the only institution in the valley of the Mississippi, and, with a single exeception, the only one in the United States that is designed especially for the education of colored physicians.

It is the design of the Trustees and Faculty of this institution to afford students that kind of information that will be most useful to them in active professional life, From the success which the graduates of this school have already achieved, we are encouraged to believe that the teaching has been well adapted to fit them for the responsible position of medical practitioners.

BUILDING.

Through the generous donations of Rev. Samuel Meharry and his brothers, Rev. Jesse Meharry, Hugh Meharry and the late Rev. A. Meharry, together with liberal personal donations of Rev. Dr. R S. Rust, Corresponding Secretary of the Freedmen's Aid Society, a new building has been erected and will be ready for use at the opening of next session. This building is beautifully located near the other college buildings. It is a substantial brick, four stories high, and will accommodate over a hundred students with excellent school facilities,

COURSE OF STUDY.

Three years of study will ordinarily be required to complete the course.

The preliminary studies may be pursued either under the direction of the Faculty, or of some regular physician at home.

During the first year's attendance here, students will be required to recite daily in Anatomy, Physiology, Chemistry and Materia Medica, and have practical work in dissecting. They will have also the privilege of being present at the clinics, and hearing the lectures delivered before the senior class.

At the close of the session, they are required to pass a satisfactory written examination in the above mentioned branches.

The studies for the second year consists of Surgery, Gynæcology, Obstetrics, Surgical Anatomy, and Theory and Practice of Medicine, and daily recitations and attendance on the lectures will be required. Written monthly examinations are required during the whole course.

ADMISSION.

Applicants must be at least eighteen years of age, of good moral character, and pass a satisfactory examination in the common English branches.

Some knowledge of Latin and of the Natural Sciences will prove to be of great advantage, and students are earnestly advised, if possible, to take an academic or collegiate course before commencing the study of medicine.

There is no reason why the colored physician should not be as thoroughly educated as any other. There are special reasons why he should be thoroughly equipped for his work. The ignorance, the irregular habits of life, and the great mortality among the colored people in many parts of the South, renders it absolutely necessary that those, whose work is especially among this class, should be thoroughly prepared to grapple with the difficult problems which present themselves in this field of practice.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION.

1. To graduate, the candidate must have attained the age of twenty-one years.
2. He must have studied medicine at least three years under some regular physician in good standing, including the time spent in this or some other medical school.
3. He must have attended some regular medical school at least two sessions of not less than twenty weeks each, the last of which must have been in this institution.
4. He must pass a satisfactory written examinatlon in all of the branches laid down in this course, and present an acceptable original thesis on some medical subject.
5. He must have paid in full all College dues, including the graduation fee.

FREE INSTRUCTION FOR MISSIONARIES.

Realizing the importance of medical knowledge to those who are preparing for missionary work in Africa, or other foreign lands, so that they can minister to the bodily as well as the spiritual wants of the people among whom they may be called to labor, the Trustees offer free instruction to the ministers of any Christian church, who are preparing specially fer the foreign missionary work.

Pupils entering this department must be fourteen years of age, and pass the required examination.

Students in this department who teach a class regularly, will not be required to pay tuition fees.

The urgent demands for competent teachers is such, that special efforts will be continued to make this department most efficient in fitting young men and women for the work of teaching.

ACADEMIC.

The Academic Department affords the means of acquiring a thorough English education, with sufficient knowledge of the languages to pursue the study of the professions advantageously.

COMMON ENGLISH AND BUSINESS COURSES.

These courses are especially adapted for those who desire a thorough acquaintance with the common English and such other special studies as will prepare business life.

ADMISSION.

Applicants must be at least fourteen years of age to be admitted into the regular College classes, and must pass a satisfactory examination on such studies as have already been pursued by the class they propose to enter. They must bring satisfactory evidence of good moral character; agree to be governed by the rules of the college, and make the required payments before being admitted to the privileges of the school.

Students coming from other colleges must bring satisfactory evidence of honorable dismission.

EXAMINATION.

Written examinations will take place on the studies pursued during each month, and at the close of each Term the classes will be examined in the studies of the Term.

Students who absent themselves from examination will be required to pass the examination in order to retain their standing in their classes.

GRADUATION.

Students completing any course of study, will receive the degree usually conferred for such attainments, or certificates of graduation.

Candidates for graduation in any course will be required to pass an examination on the common English branches.

MUSIC.

Classes in vocal music and free gymnastics are taught each session.

Instrumental music on the organ or piano, with use of instrument, will be $3.00 per month.

THE BIBLE.

Daily recitations in the English Bible are required, whenever practicable, in all the courses of study, and no student will be permitted to graduate in any department unless he can pass a satisfactory examination on the outlines of Bible history and doctrine.

GOVERNMENT.

The order and arrangement of the family is observed as far as practicable.

A daily account is kept of each student, in such a way as to afford a full exhibit of his habits in regard to regularity and punctuality in his duties, as well as the merit of his recitations, and a copy sent, when desired, to the parents or guardians.

The use of tobacco or intoxicating liquors is positively forbidden.

Students occupying rooms in the college buildings must keep them in order, and are not permitted to receive company, or visit each other's rooms during school or study hours. They will be required to observe the hours for rising and retiring, and also hours for study and recreation. They will not be permitted to leave the grounds without permission. They will be responsible for order in their rooms, and will be required to pay for any damage done to furniture, or buildings, beyond the necessary wear in careful usage. Regular and punctual attendance on all College duties is imperatively demanded for the highest success of the students.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

Religious exercises are held each day at the opening and closing of school. Students are required to attend these services; and also to attend Sunday school and public worship each Sabbath, at such places as are designated by parents or guardians. Those occupying rooms in the College buildings will attend services at the College, unless excused. While the institution is under the patronage of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and is supported almost entirely by the Freedmen's Aid Society of this Church, it is the aim to teach those great principles of religion which fit men to be truly useful, and make them wise unto salvation.

The friends of the students are requested not to visit them on Sunday, and students will not be allowed to leave the College grounds for any other purpose than those in accordance with the command: "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The Library contains over fifteen hundred volumes.

The geological cabinet contains about 400 specimens. An herbariam belonging to the teacher of natural science, containing about 1200 species of plants, furnishes material for thorough instruction in Botany. Some additional philosophical apparatus, especially for illustrating electricity, has been procured during the past year.

Our friends can aid us greatly by making additions to each of these necessary educational instrumentalities.

SOCITIES.

There are five Societies connected with the College. The Young Men's Christian Association affords opportunity for weekly religious exercises, and public meetings for the promotion of personal piety and Christian activity. The members of this association have aided in establishing and maintaing Sunday schools, and have thrice canvassed a considerable portion of Nashville in the interest of the American Bible Society, and have done other Christian work. The Haven Missionary Society holds its meetings for promotion of the missionary spirit, by imparting information concerning the foreign fields and especially Africa.

The Excelsior Literary, and Junior Societies are composed of those students who may be elected on account literary and other merit. The Library Congress meets regulary for literary exercises and discipline in parlaimentary law. These organizations afford excellent opportunities to become acquainted with the usages of deliberative bodies, dicipline in debate, and general elocutionary exercises,

LECTURES.

Lectures have been delivered during the school year by all the professors in the college, on subjeects connected with the course of study, and also by distiuguished gentlemen not connected with the college. These lectures are designed to supplement the course of study and to enlarge the field of knowledge beyond the study of the text books.

BUILDINGS.

The college buildings consist of four substantial brick edifices, stuated on the east side of Maple Street in South Nashville.

A new and elegant building, intended for the Meharry Medical Department will be ready for use at the opening of the next session on the 4 th" of October. These buildings are pleasantly and healthfully situated, and afford ample facilities for school purposes, and a comfortable home for students occupying rooms in them.

EXPENSES.

Tution is $1 per month (four weeks.) Room rent $1.75 per month.

Boarding in the institution including tuition and room rent, is $8 per month. Lights and fuel furuished at cost.

All bills for tuition, board, room rent, etc., must be paid, at least monthly, in advance.

No student will be permitted to enter school for less than one month, and no deductions will be made from any regular dues on account of absence, except in cases of protracted illness, and in no case for less than two weeks.

Rooms will be furnished with heavy furniture, including bedding. Students will be required to furnish such other articles of furniture as may be necessary for cleanliness and comfort.

Students under fourteen years of age will not be permitted to room in the College buildings without special arrangements.

It is the desire of all connected with the school to make the expenses of the students as light as possible. Arrangements are made for those who desire to do so, to board themselves, by furnishing their own bed-clothes and such other articles as they need.

Students bringing money with them should deposit it with the President, or some member of the Faculty, for safety. Parents and guardians are advised not to furnish money to the students to spend without the advice of some judicious friend, or some member of the Faculty.

DONATIONS.

During the year donations to aid theological students have been received from the Freedman's Aid Society of the M. E. Church, by R. S. Rust, Tennessee Conference of the M. E. Church.

Mrs. Bishop Peck, Syracuse, N. Y.; a Friend, through Rev. D. Rutledge, D. D.; Miss L. Battle, Girard, Penn.; a number of Friends through Rev. Dr. W. Butler. For other purposes, by Rev. Samnel Meharry, Shawnee Mound, Ind.; Mrs. A. Meharry, Eaton, Ohio.; Mr. Hugh Meharry, Paxton. Ill. Donations of books from the Department of War, Department of the Interior, Smithsonian Institution, and friends through Rev.

Dr. Wm. Butler. Also valuable surgical instruments and medicines from Dr. W. W. Breeze, of Nashville, and drugs from Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit, Mich.

An astronomical telescope, equatorially mounted, with a three and one-fourth inch object glass, four eye pieces prism and finder, has been presentd to the College by Rev W. Patterson.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

To secure a thorough preparation for the Missionary, and especially for the work in Africa, an offer is made of a thorough course of Medical instruction to those who propose to devote themselves to this work. To meet the expense of the Department, it is proposed to endow a number of scholarships, with five hundred dollars each, the interest of which will pay the tuition of a student in the Medical school. Rev. Jessee Meharry of Ind., has given this sum to endow a scholarship, hereafter to be known by his name.

The investment of a thousand dollars will establish a scholarship that will keep a student in school regularly year after year. The interest of this amount will pay all the expenses of board, tuition, etc., of a student in any department of the College. We invite the special attention of our friends who may wish to aid in the education of the colored people to this proposition. The great impediment in the rapid progress of the colored people in education, is the inability to remain in school regularly, till they have completed their course of study. One of the most urgent needs of the colored people is leaders from themselves, thoroughly educated, and acquainted with the wants and surroundings of the Freedman, who can have their confidence, and whose councils the colored people will heed. These men and women come from themselves, and from the South. They must be of those who have sympathy for the Freedmen, by having suffered with them. These educated, disciplined men and women should be furnished at the earliest possible moment. They should be in the schoolroom, the pulpit, at the bar and at the bed side of the sick. They are needed now. Who will help furnish them?

HISTORY AND WORK.

The school closes its fourteenth year most auspiciously, the enrollment in all departments reaching 331, and the Preparatory school, at Mason, reaching 101, making a total of 432. The English Business, Normal, Academic, College, Scientific, Theological, Medical and Law courses of study have been organized. Over three thousand different students have been enrolled in fourteen years. Nearly one-third of these have engaged in teaching, and tens of thousands have received the benefit of their labors in the school-room. The Sunday-school has been organized most always in connection with the day-schools of our students. Many of our students are doing good work in the Conferences of our own and other branches of Methodism. During the year nearly all the students in the boarding department have been greatly quickened in their religious life or have become Christians. The foreign missionary work, especially in Africa, as well as the home field, receives consideration in the monthly missionary meetings, and also by the meetings of the Haven Missionary Society. Some students are pursuing their studies with reference to making the "dark continent" the field of their future labors.

Many young men are asking for help, from twenty-five to fifty dollars, to enable them to attend school a year or two. With this aid they will be prepared for usefulness among their people. A better educated ministry is imperatively demanded. This should be furnished as soon as practicable. Rome and infidelity are at work among the freedmen. The interests of the colored people are jeopardized by delay. With their prosperity and development is closely united the peace and progress of the whole land. There are nearly five millions of people who are asking for better teachers, better preachers, competent business men, lawyers and physicians from themselves. The demand is reasonable, absolutely necessary, for their highest welfare, and philanthropy, patriotism and Christianity should unite in meeting this demand at the earliest moment practicable.
